

Spring “punch list” list for the garden

<http://www.castlepinesconnection.com/pages/news/2014/qtr1/cpc3/bettyCahil.html>

2/24/14

Information provided by the CPV Garden Club

Springtime garden “to-do” chores can be long and overwhelming. For relief, join The Castle Pines Village Garden Club as they host Betty Cahill, author of The Denver Post’s “Punch List” on Friday, March 7 at 10 a.m.

Cahill will take you through an easy and manageable month-by-month punch list for your garden, starting in March through the end of June. Her comprehensive hand-out will be the only reference material needed to successfully navigate through a full growing season in Castle Pines.

Betty accompanied the club’s speaker last year – Rosarian, Peggy Williams – and added much to the presentation with her extensive gardening knowledge and practical approach to maintaining a fulfilling garden environment.

Following the program, please plan on staying for lunch at the country club. A buffet, including entrée items, dessert, and a drink will be served. Your cost is $20.

Contact Terri Butz by e-mail for more information and to RSVP for lunch.

Betty Cahill, author of The Denver Post’s “Punch List”